

Name _____

1. Name the type of poetry.
 There once was a cook with a spoon
 Who stirred by the light of the moon.
 Her crumpets were sweet.
 They couldn't be beat.
 What dish will she make come high noon?

2. Write a topic sentence for a paragraph that discusses a nutritious school lunch program.

3. Add quotation marks to the passage below.
Do you know how long the longest banana split was? asked Jeff. The people of Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, do. They made a banana split that was 4.55 miles long.

4. What is the meaning of this statement?
 I am so hungry I could eat a horse!

5. Replace the incorrectly-used words on the sign.

Stuffed Cafe

Features of the Day

- Succulent seafood covered in a tangy mustered soss –It will leave you wanting just one more byte!
- Mouth-watering stakes grilled to perfection –A treat for your taste buds!
- Delectable deserts –Shore to enhance your dinning experience!

Begin you're amazing evening hear.

Name _____

1. Write two meanings of the verb mull.
 _____

2. Choose the literary element used in the sentence.
 Susan suddenly sensed the sublime aroma of warm chocolate.

simile
 onomatopoeia
 alliteration

3. Choose the type of sentence.
 Caramelizing onions takes lots of time and requires patience.

interrogative       declarative

4. Underline the direct object in the sentence.
Grandma's fresh rolls require room-temperature butter.

5. What is the main idea of the passage?

Can new brands compete with the original? In 1930 Ruth Wakefield made the very first chocolate chip cookie at the Toll House Inn in Whitman, Massachusetts. When she sold her recipe to Nestle, the chocolate company began to market semisweet chocolate morsels. Today you can buy dozens of different flavored cookie chips—raspberry, peanut butter, butterscotch, mint—as well as many varieties of chocolate chips. Recently taste-testers ranked the original chocolate morsels a respectable third in a comprehensive taste test.

